Initial Troubles

- ▶ KFA's troubles started right from the start of its operations in 2005. It is also a well-known fact that the fixed costs for Airlines are very high. Fuel expenditure accounted for 50% of aviation firm's operating costs. In 2005, the oil prices were soaring at nearly $75 per barrel.
- ▶ For 2005, KFA had a revenue of ₹ 305.55 crore ($ 61 million), and the net loss was ₹ 19.53 crores ($ 4 million). In 2006 the revenue increased three fold to ₹ 989.12 crores ($197.8 million), and net loss has grown to an alarming ₹ 272.44 crores ($54.4 million).
- ▶ In order to increase crew size and start foreign service, KFA went for a reverse merging with Air Deccan.

Merging of Air Deccan

- ▶ Acquisition of Air Deccan Towards the end of 2007, KFA in order to meet this requirement decided to acquire 46% of 'Air Deccan' another low cost Airliner, to compete with other low cost carriers and most importantly to be able to open international operations.
- ▶ Air Deccan was in existence for more than five years and this acquisition would allow KFA to fly on international routes. To facilitate this, a reverse merger was engineered, first Air Deccan acquiring KFA and few months later the merged Airline becoming KFA again.
- ▶ KFA also hoped that the acquisition would save ₹ 300 crore ($60 million) annually and also increase the fleet strength to 71. This acquisition was financed with ₹ 550 crore ($110 million) from the group's holding company UB Ltd.

- ▶ By March 2008, the debt stood at ₹ 934 crore ($186.8 million)
  - ▶ In 2009 KFA board of directors approved a resolution to raise ₹ 500 crore (US $ 100 Million) by using Global Deposit Receipts (GDRs) and also other means. Further they approved raising another ₹ 500 Crore ($100 Million) by issuing rights shares to existing shareholders
  - ▶ By the end of 2009 the net-worth of the company has become negative.

Banks Came To The Rescue

- ▶ In 2009, IDBI approved a loan of ₹ 950 crore ($190 million) in spite of turning down the same request in 2006.
- ▶ Mallya approached a number of other banks between 2008 and 2010 and managed to get huge amount of loans from a number of banks.
- ▶ Surprisingly these banks provided the loans to KFA by taking the company's 'brand value' into consideration and seven trademarks as collateral. They included Fly Kingfisher (Label Mark and Word), Flying Models of Kingfisher, Fly the Good Times, Funliner and Kingfisher, which were valued by global consultancy firm Grant & Thornton.

  - ▶ In November 2010 consortium of banks led by State Bank of India, the largest lender restructured the KFA debt for the first time. According to the agreement reached the banks converted ₹ 1355 crores ($271 million) into equity at a premium of 61% to the market price of around ₹ 80 ($14).
  - ▶ Finally on September 28, 2011 KFA decided to exit the low-cost part of their business in India. But by this time, the troubles for KFA started mounting. By December 2011, KFA had outstanding dues of ₹ 93 Crore ($18.5 million) to Mumbai International Airport Pvt. Ltd

- ▶ in 2014, United Bank of India declared Mallya as 'wilful defaulter', followed by State Bank of India and Punjab National Bank. Mallya has challenged these declarations in various courts. Banks also started acting on his collateral securities. In 2015, the consortium of banks have taken over the prestigious Kingfisher House in Mumbai valued at Rs 100 crores.
- ▶ As it stands today KFA has a total debt of $1.3 Billion. State Bank of India managed to get Rs 155 crore ($31 million) out of the loaned amount ₹ 1,623 Crore ($324 million). The value of KFA assets pledged to various banks for ₹ 4000 crore ($800 million) is only ₹ 6 crore ($1.2 million) as of now.
